L'encours global du portefeuille obligataire de la Banque Palatine s'établit fin 2018 à 1 655 millions d'euros. Ce portefeuille a pour vocation de constituer la réserve de liquidité du Liquidity Coverage Ratio ("LCR"). En étant mobilisables auprès de la Banque centrale, ces titres constituent également une sécurité pour le refinancement de la Banque Palatine. La stratégie financière de la Banque Palatine est en adéquation avec les ratios réglementaires fixés par le groupe. Le LCR s'est toujours établi au-dessus de 100 % sur l'année 2018. Ainsi, le financement de la Banque Palatine est assuré par les dépôts de ses clients grâce à une gamme complète de produits de placements. Le coefficient rapportant les crédits aux dépôts des clients (CERC) est proche de 100 % en fin d'année. Ainsi, la Banque Palatine dispose d'un socle de dépôts clientèles important qui lui permet d'assurer son développement commercial. La gestion de bilan de la Banque Palatine a maintenu ses objectifs en 2018, en limitant les risques de liquidité et de taux : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - la gestion de la liquidité à court et moyen-long termes a, pour premier objectif, d'assurer le refinancement de la Banque Palatine tout en garantissant des conditions de crédits attractives pour les clients ; - le second objectif est le strict contrôle du risque de taux sur le bilan. Cet encadrement permet à la Banque Palatine de maîtriser les variations de rentabilité que pourrait entraîner une évolution des taux. Par sa gestion de bilan, la Banque Palatine se prépare ainsi aux variations futures des taux. Le gap résiduel, mesurant le risque global de taux d'intérêt, est aujourd'hui négatif, ce qui signifie que le bilan de la Banque Palatine est exposé favorablement à une hausse des taux d'intérêt.

The net stock of clients in the private management market increased by 1.3% over one year. The net development of financial and balance sheet resources increased with a savings stock of € 4.94 billion, up 9% compared to 2018. Outstanding mortgage loans increased by 9.8% to reach € 1.71 billion on a market which increased by 6%. Financial results marked by the exceptional costs linked to the ongoing IT migration General expenses amounted to € 262.6 million, up 4%. This increase is the result of exceptional investments made as part of the migration to the new Banques Populaires IT platform. After € 32.6 million in 2018, € 58.9 million was invested in 2019 in this strategic project for the Bank, which is expected to be completed in 2020. Gross operating income stood at € 70.7 million, down 10.5% and the consolidated operating coefficient reached 78.8% (compared to 76.2% in 2018). The cost of risk, up 18.6%, amounted to € 49 million.

Its assets under management increased by 29% to € 4.04 billion. Ariès Assurances' net income was stable at € 0.2 million. Financial activities Fiscal year 2018 was again marked by an unfavourable interest rate context. In this environment, Banque Palatine invested €372 million over the year in Eurozone sovereign bonds during the first half. At the end of 2018, the value of the portfolio stood at €1,655 million. This portfolio's objective is to constitute the liquidity reserve of the Liquidity Coverage Ratio ("LCR"). As this portfolio is eligible to be posted as collateral against central bank financing, these securities represent a secure source of funding for Banque Palatine. Banque Palatine's financial strategy is in line with the regulatory ratios set by the Group. The LCR remained above 100% throughout 2018. Thus, Banque Palatine's financing is assured by customer deposits thanks to a complete range of investment products. The ratio of loans to customer deposits was close to 100% at the end of the year. Banque Palatine therefore has a substantial customer deposit base giving it significant scope for commercial development. Banque Palatine maintained its targets for balance sheet management, limiting its liquidity and rate risks: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - managing short- and medium-long-term liquidity is first and foremost aimed at ensuring the refinancing of Banque Palatine while guaranteeing attractive loan terms for its customers; - the second objective is the strict control of interest-rate risk on the balance sheet. This approach allows Banque Palatine to manage changes in yields caused by interest rate movements. Through its careful management of its balance sheet, Banque Palatine is wellprepared for any future changes in interest rates. The residual gap measuring global interest-rate risk is now negative, which means Banque Palatine's balance sheet is favourably exposed to any rise in rates.

RISK FACTORS

The section headed "RISK FACTORS" of the Base Prospectus is modified as follows:

On page 53 of the Base Prospectus, the first sentence of the element headed "RISK FACTORS RELATING TO THE ISSUER" is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

See 2018 Financial Report, pages 135 to 141 and pages 171 to 202.

On page 54 of the Base Prospectus, the section "Risks related to Banque Palatine's activities and the banking sector" shall be completed by the following risk factor:

2020's global health crisis linked to the coronavirus is deteriorating the macro-economic and financial context that could lead to a negative impact on Banque Palatine results and financial situation.

At the moment this document is being written, it is just the beginning of the coronavirus outbreak. Nevertheless, the first expected or observed macroeconomic impacts are already being felt: global growth is declining, central banks are pursuing a policy of lowering rates (e.g. the Fed's rate cut at the beginning of March) and the financial markets are dropping sharply. Each of these impacts constitutes a risk factor that can affect the results and solvency metrics (CET1 ratio) of Banque Palatine. At the moment this document is being written and given the uncertainty, Banque Palatine is not able to comment the impact of this crisis on its results and solvency metrics.

Beyond the issues of the macroeconomic and financial markets crisis, the fight against coronavirus is characterized by the confinement of the maximum of people (nearly one billion around the world). This confinement makes the management of medium-sized businesses very difficult. French medium-sized businesses constitute the core target clients of Banque Palatine. However, French Government has promised a lot of support measures to help these enterprises to survive to the coronavirus crisis. (eg Mobilization of the State to the tune of 300 billion euros to guarantee bank cash lines which businesses may need because of the epidemic, Deferral of payment of rents, water, gas and electricity bills for the smallest businesses in difficulty,...) Finally, in order to respect confinement restrictions which limits the spread of the virus and to protect the health of its employees while ensuring business continuity, Banque Palatine has taken a certain number of decisions, notably the physical separation of teams carrying out a vital activity for Banque Palatine, the opening of back-up locations or teleworking.
